Comments and Suggestions for Authors

- Excellent and outstanding review.
- I would only add a chapter about epigenetic in (especially severe) asthma, since it is very often associated to airway remodeling and there are many studies in literature about this.

Response 1: We appreciate the suggestion of the reviewer and we believe that it would be of a great addition to cover a chapter in asthma as well. However, when we consider the timeline given, going through the literature and gathering research studies together in a comprehensive way will be challenging to us in this short time period. We humbly request the reviewer to understand.
