Reviewer's comments to the Author (s)

The remit of the paper is to explore the impact of aid for trade on human development in South Asian countries for the period 2005-2019. The topic is interesting, and certainly consistent with the contents to be proposed to the readers of "Sustainability".

However, the abstract should be improved to be read with pleasure.

The author(s) must read the manuscript thoroughly to correct all grammar errors. More often I find it difficult to comprehend some sentences. I was expecting to see scientific writing and phrases. I recommend the manuscript to a native speaker for assistance.

INTRODUCTION

There could have been a conceptual framework under the introduction for the readers to understand the entire work' as it stands now the inro is weak.

METHODS

I suggest that you introduce a brief description of the study area and the reason for choosing it.

RESULT AND DISCUSSION

- The discussion of the results should be strengthened by relating to other literature findings. (Similarities or not)

What does the result tell you? the meaning and implications of the findings were all missing in the discussion.

CONCLUSION

I suggest that the authors should provide limitations and future research in your conclusion
