The study is important in the current context of oral rehabilitation.

Introduction is relevant to the topic addressed, but a bit extensive. I recommend moving the paragraph about the materials used for prosthetic rehabilitations to Discussions.

Materials and methods are appropriate and use methods that have been used in other studies.

Results - I recommend merging and systematizing them.

Discussions are relevant to the study.

Conclusions must include generic statements, otherwise they seem like a repetition of the results.

Bibliography is appropriate.
