Title	• Suggested the title should be reduced the number of words.
Abstract	• Suggested the author can made the abstract more concise, compact and cover the important points. An introduction in abstract can be made briefly and then focus on what to be focused in this paper including objective, methodology, impacts and contributions. • No need paragraph for abstract. • It is better to follow the abstract writing style for the paper and not like the abstract in thesis writing style.
Introduction	• The introduction serves the purpose of leading the reader from a general subject area to a particular field of research. It establishes the context of the research being conducted by summarizing current understanding and background information about the topic, stating the purpose of the work in the form of the hypothesis, question, or research problem, briefly explaining your rationale, methodological approach, highlighting the potential outcomes your study can reveal, and describing the remaining structure of the paper. • Suggested the authors can enter the “research gap” to show the gap from the previous study.

Methodology	• Suggested the authors can show clearly about the type of method use.
Results	• Acceptable but too short.
Discussion	• Suggested the author need to rewrite the discussion with correct style. • Discussion is a section that clearly discusses the results of the study that has been conducted with previous studies. The authors needs to improve the way of writing in this section by combining the results of the study done with the results of previous studies using appropriate words such as "This study is in line with previous study by..."
Conclusion	• The author have to do the conclusion to view overall result of the study.

	• Need to write with the correct style and can include the impact or contribution of study to show to reader how the important this study.
