All comments were adressed in the answers, however, the informations should be transferred to the manuscript. For example, the number of strains involved in the work, I could not find it in the revised manuscript, and I feel it's unfair for the reader, as it is required to assess the representativity of the study.

Answer: The information that we answered in the last review was added to the text (highlighted in yellow) as recommended.
Thank you for the comments, certainly they improved the manuscript.
